Internet Explorer Browser Settings

Some security settings in your Internet Explorer browser might cause you some problems when using our application. Please set your browser with the following settings to make working with NVMS a better experience.

Mixed Content Error Alert ----

This alert is caused by the order chart that is loaded on your home page. It accesses a non-secure URL to check your flash version and it will ask you to install flash if you don’t already have it loaded. Since you are logged in to a secure site (https://secure.nvms.com) Internet Explorer throws this alert every time you access your home page.

To fix this error, you have two options.

1) Remove this box from your home page. To remove this box from your home page, click the “X” in the upper right-hand corner of the “Orders This Year” dashboard box. (You can do this with any box on your homepage. You may also drag these boxes up and down your dashboard to any position you wish.)

2) Set your browser settings to suppress this error. In Internet Explorer, go to Tools/Internet Options in your tool bar. Click the Security tab and then make sure the “Internet” icon is highlighted.
Click the “Custom level” button... Scroll down until you see the option “Display mixed content”. Click the Enable option here and then click “OK”.
Make NVMS a Trusted Site ----
With all the Worms, Trojans and Viruses out there it’s best to set NVMS as a trusted site. This will allow you to control security for sites that you trust and then all other sites will fall into the “Internet” group.

Plus NVMS uses a lot of client scripting that some security programs might have problems with. Setting NVMS as a trusted site should allow the browser to run smoothly.

To set NVMS as a Trusted Site, In Internet Explorer, go to Tools/Internet Options in your tool bar. Click the Security tab and then make sure the “Trusted Sites” icon is highlighted.

Click the “Sites” button and then make sure that our site, https://secure.nvms.com is in your trusted sites list. If it’s not in the list, add it in the top input field and then click the add button (see image below).
Once you’ve added the site and it appears in the Websites list, click the close button and then click “OK”.

Once you make these settings your browser should run smoothly with the NVMS application. If you have any problems or questions, please contact us at support@nvms.com and we’ll do our best to help you out.
